Ceremony 1

{Applicant 1} & {Applicant 2}

This couple has come here today to be joined in marriage, which is the voluntary union of two persons to the exclusion of all others. If any person can show just cause why they may not be lawfully joined together, let them speak now or forever hold their peace.

Marriage Officiate to the 1st person:

Repeat after me please. "I {Applicant 1} do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 2}."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Repeat after me please. "I {Applicant 2} do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 1}."

Marriage is not a single event but rather a developing process, which is not to be undertaken recklessly or irresponsibly but maturely and honestly. Marriage is the faithful union between two persons, the result of which is the formation of a family unit whose members shall help, support and enjoy each other in good times and otherwise. It is this relationship which these two persons wish to have declared and celebrated.

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Repeat after me please. "I call upon these persons, here present, to witness that I, {Applicant 1} do take you {Applicant 2} to be my lawful wedded {Intro/Reference}."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Repeat after me please. "I call upon these persons, here present, to witness that I, {Applicant 2} do take you {Applicant 1} to be my lawful wedded {Intro/Reference}."

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Have you a ring? This ring is a symbol of your marriage and a symbol of your love and of your life together. Please place it on the third finger of {Applicant 2 first name}'s left hand saying after me: "With this ring, I thee wed. I shall love, honor and cherish thee and this ring shall be the symbol of my love."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Have you a ring? This ring is a symbol of your marriage and a symbol of your love and of your life together. Please place it on the third finger of {Applicant 1 first name}'s left hand saying after me:

“With this ring, I thee wed. I shall love, honor and cherish thee and this ring shall be the symbol of my love.”

Marriage Officiant:

I _____ by the virtue of the powers vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario, do hereby pronounce you {Applicant 1} and {Applicant 2} to be married.

Ceremony 2 – No ring(s)

{Applicant 1} & {Applicant 2}

We are gathered at this place to witness the formal joining in the legal state of matrimony of this couple, according to the order and the custom prevailing, and under the authority given and provided by the Government of the Province of Ontario.

The state of matrimony, as understood by us, is a state ennobled and enriched by a long and honourable tradition of devotion, set in the basis of the law of the land, assuring each participant an equality before the law, and supporting the common rights of each party to the marriage.

Marriage is therefore not to be entered upon thoughtlessly or irresponsibly, but with a due and serious understanding and appreciation of the ends for which it is contracted, and of the material, intellectual and emotional factors which will govern its fulfillment.

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Repeat after me please. "I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 2} ."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Repeat after me please. "I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 1} ."

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Repeat after me please. "I call upon these persons here present to witness that I, {Applicant 1} do take you to be my lawful wedded {Intro/Reference}."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Repeat after me please. "I call upon these persons here present to witness that I, {Applicant 2} do take you to be my lawful wedded {Intro/Reference}."

Before introducing you for the first time as a married couple, I would like us to reflect upon these words:

Let your home be your haven of peace in the midst of a busy and businesslike world; let your relationship be one of complete truth and understanding between you both; respect the confidences of your partner in this marriage, and by growing together in love, it is possible to share not only the joys of life, but the burdens of sorrow as well.

May you enjoy length of days, fulfillment of hopes and peace and contentment of mind, as you day by day live and fulfill the terms of this covenant you have made with one another.

Marriage Officiant:

I _____ by the virtue of the powers vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario, do hereby pronounce you {Applicant 1} and {Applicant 2} to be married.

Ceremony 3

Ceremony 4

{Applicant 1} & {Applicant 2}

We are meeting here today in the presence of these witnesses to formally join, in the legal state of matrimony, this couple, according to the customs and laws of the Province of Ontario.

Marriage is intended to solemnize the voluntary union between two persons, to create a relationship of mutual help, love and devotion, in good times and otherwise.

Therefore, if there is any one present who can show just cause why these two persons may not be lawfully joined together in matrimony, they should now declare it, or hereafter remain silent.

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

repeat after me please. "I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I {Applicant 1} may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 2}."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Repeat after me please. "I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I {Applicant 2} may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 1}."

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Marriage Officiant:

I _____ by the virtue of the powers vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario, do hereby pronounce you {Applicant 1} and {Applicant 2} to be married.

Ceremony 5 (no rings)

{Applicant 1} & {Applicant 2}

We are gathered together to witness the formal joining in the legal state of matrimony of this couple according to the custom and law prevailing by the Government of the Province of Ontario.

Marriage is the promise of hope between two people who love each other sincerely, who honour each other as individuals, and who wish to unite their lives and share the future together.

In this ceremony, {Applicant 1} and {Applicant 2} dedicate themselves to the happiness and well-being of each other, in the new life they now undertake.

{Applicant 1} and {Applicant 2} may you pledge to each other to be loving friends and partners in marriage. To talk and to listen, to trust and appreciate one another; to respect and cherish each other's uniqueness, and to support, comfort, and strengthen each other through life's joys and sorrows. May you promise to share hopes, thoughts, and dreams as you build your lives together. May your lives be ever intertwined, your love keeping you together. May you build a home that is compassionate to all, full of respect and honour for others and for each other.

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Repeat after me please. "I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment why I {Applicant 1} may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 2}."

Marriage Officiant to the 2nd person:

Repeat after me please. "I do solemnly declare that I do now know of any lawful impediment why I {Applicant 2} may not be joined in matrimony to {Applicant 1}."

Marriage Officiant to the 1st person:

Marriage Officiant:

I _____ by the virtue of the powers vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario, do hereby pronounce you {Applicant 1} and {Applicant 2} to be married.

Ceremony 6

Marriage Officiant

Good evening everyone!

From this place, we take ourselves out of the usual routines of daily living to witness a unique moment in the lives of _____ and _____. Today they join their lives in the union of marriage.

To all their guests, they are happy to share this moment with you. They have known most of you for many years. You watched them grow up, you went to school with them, or you worked with them. Because you are the ones who have supported them and known them so well, it is only fitting that you are the ones to share this once-in-a-lifetime moment with them.

A wedding day is often a day when couples miss family members no longer with them. For _____ and _____, there are family members whose memories they hold dear.

And so it is that _____ and _____ present themselves to be married today...surrounded by the people they love the most.

Officiant:

As _____ and _____ prepared for the ceremony part of this wedding celebration, they reflected on what it is that they love about each other. And this was the easiest part of planning this wedding! Before we go any further, we must get the legal aspect out of the way. Is there anyone here present who knows of any reason why these two shall not be married?

To Both:

Please repeat after me together:

*I do solemnly declare that I do not know of any lawful impediment
why we may not be joined in matrimony

To the Applicant 1:

_____ (Applicant 1 name), _____ (Applicant 2 name) loves that you blend in so comfortably with her family. She sees in you a funny, kind, and sweet man. She loves that you think she is funny and that you always find a way to compliment her.

She loves that you always want to be close to her. You remember details of the stories she tells. You want to be part of her family and circle of friends. You help her around the house. Most importantly, you are so close that even when she is at her worst, you have never made her feel like you want anything but to be closer to her.

To Applicant 2:

_____ (Applicant 2 name), _____ (Applicant 1 name) loves that you _____ (fill in the blank). He loves your brain, your smile, and your beauty. He appreciates that you are "low maintenance." He likes that you can be really silly. He loves your jokes and texts. He loves your cooking. He loves your kisses. He just really loves you!

To Both:

You both look to a shared future that includes raising a happy & healthy family. That future also includes a richly lived life together...going out to restaurants, hanging out with family, relaxing at home in front of the TV, singing and dancing...Applicant 2 will do the singing, and Applicant 1 will do the dancing.

The years will come and go...you won't take each other for granted, you will laugh a lot, you will be the best parents you can be, you will grow older and wiser together. It's a good story, and the ending is not in sight!

MARRIAGE VOWS:

Officiant:

We come now to the words _____ and _____ want to hear the most today...the words that take them across the threshold from being engaged to being married.

A marriage, as most of us understand it, is a voluntary and full commitment. It is made in the deepest sense to the exclusion of all others, and it is entered into with the desire and hope that it will last for life.

Before you declare your vows to one another, I want to hear you confirm that it is indeed your intention to be married today.

To Applicant 1:

_____, do you come here freely and without reservation to give yourself to _____ in marriage? If so, answer "I do."

Applicant 1:

I do.

Officiant:

To Applicant 2:

_____, do you come here freely and without reservation to give yourself to _____ in marriage? If so, answer "I do."

Applicant 2:

I do.

Officiant:

_____ and _____, having heard that it is your intention to be married to each other, I now ask you to declare your marriage vows.

Please face each other and hold hands.

Officiant to Applicant 1:

Applicant 1, please repeat after me...

*I call upon these persons here present to witness that I, _____ do take you, _____ to be my lawful wedded wife.

I will share my life with yours,
and build our dreams together,
Support you through times of trouble,
and rejoice with you in times of happiness.

I promise to give you
respect, love and loyalty.
This commitment is made in love,
kept in faith,
lived in hope,
and made new every day of our lives.

Officiant to Applicant 2:

Applicant 2, please repeat after me...

*I call upon these persons here present to witness that I, _____ do take you, _____ to be my lawful wedded husband.

I will share my life with yours,
Build our dreams together,
Support you through times of trouble,
and rejoice with you in times of happiness.

I promise to give you
respect, love and loyalty.
This commitment is made in love,
kept in faith,
lived in hope,
and made new every day of our lives.

EXCHANGE WEDDING RINGS

Officiant:

Your wedding ring are the outward and visible sign of the inward and invisible bond which already unites you two hearts in love.

[Applicant 1], place the ring on Applicant 2's finger and repeat after me....

I give you this ring.
Wear it with love and joy.

As this ring has no end,
My love is also forever.

[Applicant 2], place the ring on Applicant 1's finger and repeat after me....

I give you this ring.

Wear it with love and joy.

As this ring has no end,

My love is also forever.

May the wedding rings you exchanged today remind you always that you are surrounded by enduring love.

Officiant:

Everyone has advice for newlyweds. _____ and _____, I offer these good wishes to you on this special day. May your life together be blessed with prosperity and good health. May you always share open and honest communication between each other. May you respect each other's individual talents and gifts and give full support to each other's professional and personal pursuits.

May you cherish the home and family you will create together. May all the years to come be filled with moments to celebrate and renew your love. May your love be a life-long source of excitement, contentment, affection, respect, and devotion for one another.

DECLARATION OF MARRIAGE

Officiant:

And so now I, _____ by virtue of the power vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario, delight to declare and pronounce you to be [husband and wife]. You may seal this declaration with a kiss.

Officiant:

I am pleased to present the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. _____!

We will now go forward and sign the register.

Ceremony 7

Officiant:

We are gathered together on this day to witness and celebrate the marriage of _____ & _____. We come together not to mark the start of a relationship, but to acknowledge and strengthen a bond that already exists. This ceremony is a public affirmation of that bond and as their dearest family and friends, it is our honor and privilege to stand witness to this event.

This day is made possible not only because of your love for each other, but through the grace and support of your family and friends. It is our hope that your fulfillment and joy in each other will increase with each passing year.

Marriage is a commitment in life, where two people can find and bring out the very best in each other. It offers opportunities for sharing and growth that no other human relationship can equal, a physical and emotional joining that has the promise of a lifetime.

OPENING PRAYER By Family Member:

Let us bow our heads in prayer. Lord, we thank you for gathering everyone here today. We ask that you help _____ and _____ to remember the strong love that they share. To work that love into practical things so that nothing can divide them. May their love always inspire them to be kind in their words, considerate of the other's feelings, and concerned for the other's needs and wishes. Increase their faith and trust in You. Bless their marriage with peace and happiness and make their Love fruitful for Your glory and their joy, both here and in eternity. Amen.

Officiant:

While the commitment begins with the two of you, its effect radiates outward. It touches your family and friends and ultimately all of society. When this commitment is seriously made and continuously fulfilled, it leads to the richest and most rewarding of human relationships.

Your relationship will take more than love. It will take trust, to know in your hearts that you want only the best for each other. Dedication, to stay open to one another, to learn and grow, even when it is difficult to do so.

And faith, to go forward together without knowing what the future holds for you both.

While love is our natural state of being, these other qualities are not as easy to come by. They are not a destination, but a journey. Marriage is a give and take between two personalities, a mingling of two endowments which diminishes neither, but enhances both.

Seeing that no moment is without meaning, we ask that you take this marriage as a beginning of your lives together. Today signifies the creation of a new home and a new family for you both. May you be fulfilled by each other's love and friendship. May you be overjoyed by the promises you are about to make and the life together you will create.

Remember that in every marriage, there are good times and bad, times of joy and times of sorrow. Marriage is a journey – a time of adventure and excitement enhanced by the love, trust, dedication and faith you share in one another.

May the promises you make to one another today, be lived out to the end of your lives. Tomorrow can bring you the greatest of joys, but today is the day it all begins.

Officiant:

_____ and _____, do you, with your family and friends as your witnesses, present yourselves willingly and of your own accord to be joined in marriage?

Both:

[We do]

Officiant:

*Do you verify that you do not know of any lawful impediment that would prevent you from marrying each other?

Both:

[We do]

Officiant:

Will you promise to care for each other in the joys and sorrows of life, come what may, and to share the responsibility for growth and enrichment of your life together?

Both:

[We will]

Officiant:

Applicant 1, please repeat after me.

*I call upon these persons here to witness that

I, _____, take you _____, to be my wedded wife

I give to you in the presence of these witnesses

My promise to stay by your side,

In sickness and in health, in joy and in sorrow,

As well as through the good times and the bad.

I promise to love you without reservation,

Comfort you in times of distress

Encourage you to achieve all of your goals,

Laugh with you and cry with you,

Grow with you in mind and spirit

Always be open and honest with you,

And cherish you for as long as we both shall live

Officiant to Applicant 2:

Applicant 2, please repeat after me

*I call upon these persons here present to witness

That I, _____, take you _____, to be my wedded husband

I give to you in the presence of these witnesses

My promise to stay by your side,

In sickness and in health, in joy and in sorrow,

As well as through the good times and the bad.

I promise to love you without reservation,

Comfort you in times of distress

Encourage you to achieve all of your goals,

Laugh with you and cry with you,

Grow with you in mind and spirit

Always be open and honest with you,

And cherish you for as long as we both shall live

EXCHANGING OF THE RINGS

Officiant:

Having this love in your hearts, you have chosen to seal your vows by exchanging rings.

From the earliest times, the circle has been a sign of completeness. The rings that you have chosen to wear have neither beginning nor end, much like your love for one another. They are a symbol of the words that you speak today. May these rings be from this day forward, your most treasured adornment, and may the love they symbolize, be your most precious possession. As you wear these rings, may they be constant reminders of these glad promises you are making today.

_____, take this ring, place it on _____'s finger and repeat after me.

I give you this ring as a symbol of my love and faithfulness to you.

_____, take this ring, place it on _____'s finger and repeat after me.

I give you this ring as a symbol
of my love and faithfulness to you.

_____ and _____ from this moment forward you will never be alone. You will carry with you the love of another person, giving you a completeness and renewed lightness. May your life together be immersed in love and excitement. May you strive to enrich each other in every possible way. And may you work to bring the peace you find to this world.

Officiant:

Having pledged their fidelity to one another, to love, honor and cherish one another in the presence of this gathering and by the authority vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario, it is my honor to now pronounce you husband and wife. You may kiss the Applicant 2.

Ladies and Gentlemen, it is my honor to be the first to introduce you to: Mr. and Mrs. _____.

Ceremony 8

WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

Officiant:

Welcome! _____ and _____ have brought us together here for an occasion of great joy and a cause for great celebration. Having found each other, they have built the kind of relationship that will serve them well as the foundation for their marriage. They have chosen each one of you to be here with them to witness their wedding vows as they join together as husband and wife.

Marriage is a bold step into an unknown future. It is risking who we are for the sake of who we can be. In marriage, two lives are intimately shared; and the blending of the two must not diminish either one. Rather, it should enhance the individuality of each partner.

Each of us knows that a marriage is not created by a law or a ceremony; rather it occurs in the hearts of two human beings. It grows out of loving, caring, and sharing ourselves with another. This ceremony is not magic, it will not create a relationship that does not already exist and has not already been celebrated in all the commitments _____ and _____ have made to each other, both large and small, in the days since they first met and recognized their connection to one another.

So, in witnessing this ceremony today, we are observing only an outward sign of an inward union that already exists between _____ and _____. This ceremony is a symbol of how far they have come together and a symbol of the promise that they will make to each other to continue to live their lives together and to love each other solely and above all others.

There are only two official witnesses at a wedding but each and every person here today will witness the words that they will speak to one another and the vows that they will make. You should take good care to remember these words; for a marriage needs the help of a community, of friends and family who will be there when needed and will do all that they can during hard times to stand by _____ and _____ and offer their support to them and the new family that they create today. May you always do all within your power to support the union that will be made here today and to nurture the bond between these two people whom you love.

If the old fairy-tale ending “and they lived happily ever after...” is taken to mean “They felt for the next fifty years exactly as they felt the day before they were married,” then it says what probably never was nor ever would be true, and would be highly undesirable if it were. Who could bear to live in that excitement for even five years? What would become of your work, your appetite, your sleep, and your friendships? But, of course, ceasing to be “in love” need not mean ceasing to love.

Love in this second sense-love as distinct from “being in love” and it is not merely a feeling. Love is a deep unity, maintained by the will and deliberately strengthened by habit; reinforced by the grace which both partners receive from God. They can have this love for each other even at those moments when they do not like each other; as you love yourself even when you do not like yourself. They can retain this love even when each could easily allow themselves to be “in love” with someone else. “Being in love” first moved them to promise fidelity but this quieter love enables them to keep the promise. It is on this love that the engine of marriage is run: being in love was the explosion that started it.

But before we may move forward from that explosion, I must ask, Do either of you know of any lawful reason that you should not be joined in marriage?

Both:

No

Officiant:

good, then please repeat after me:

I do solemnly declare

that I do not know of any lawful impediment

why we may not be joined in matrimony

DECLARATION OF INTENT

Officiant:

A successful marriage is not something that just happens. It takes work, it takes patience, and it takes time. It takes a commitment from both of you... a commitment to do whatever it takes to make your relationship thrive and not just simply survive.

Officiant to Applicant 1:

_____, will you take _____ to be your lawfully wedded wife and travel the rest of life's road with her? Will you love her, laugh with her, comfort her, honor and protect her, and forsaking all others, be faithful to her as long as you both shall live?

Applicant 1:

I do.

Officiant to Applicant 2:

_____, will you take _____ to be your lawfully wedded Husband and travel the rest of life's road with him? Will you love him, laugh with him, comfort him, honor and protect him, and forsaking all others, be faithful to him as long as you both shall live?

Applicant 2:

I do.

EXCHANGE OF VOWSOfficiant:

_____ and _____, the symbolic vows that you are about to make are a way of saying to one another, "You know all those things we've promised and hoped and dreamed- well, I meant it all, every word." Before this moment you have been many things to one another- acquaintance, friend, companion, lover, and even teacher, for you have learned much from one another in these last few years. Now you shall say a few words and things will never quite be the same between you. For after these vows, you shall say to the world, this – is my husband, this – is my wife.

Officiant to Applicant 1 (repeat):

I, _____, choose you, _____
In the presence of our friends and families,
To be my wife and partner from this day forward;
To love you,
To be a comfort and safe haven in your life,
To hold you close,
To listen deeply when you speak,
To uphold you with my strength,
To weigh the effects of the words I speak
And the things I do,
To never take you for granted,
And to always give thanks For your presence in my life.

Officiant to Applicant 2 (repeat):

I, _____, choose you, _____
In the presence of our friends and families,
To be my husband and partner
From this day forward;
To love you,
To be a comfort and safe haven in your life,
To hold you close,
To listen deeply when you speak,
To uphold you with my strength,
To weigh the effects of the words I speak
And the things I do,
To never take you for granted,
And to always give thanks For your presence in my life.

RING EXCHANGE

This is the point in the ceremony when people talk about the wedding bands being a perfect circle, having no beginning and no end. But we all know that these rings have a beginning. Rock is dug up from the earth. Metals are liquefied in a furnace at a thousand degrees. The hot metal is forged, cooled, and then painstakingly polished. Something beautiful made from raw elements.

Love is like that. It comes from humble beginnings, made by imperfect beings. It is the process of making something beautiful where there was once nothing at all.

The promises which you have spoken to each other today are inscribed forever in your minds, in your hearts. But words are fleeting so let these rings serve as a reminder of the feelings you have in your hearts at this very moment.

Now, Repeat after me:

Officiant to Applicant 1:

with this ring I am giving you my promise/
to always love you/
cherish you/
honor you and comfort you.
I promise that I will love you/
and keep my heart open to you/
all the days of my life.

Officiant to Applicant 2:

with this ring I am giving you my promise/
to always love you/
cherish you/
honor you and comfort you.
I promise that I will love you/
and keep my heart open to you
/all the days of my life.

Officiant:

_____ and _____, no one but you can declare yourselves married. You have begun it here today in speaking your vows before your family and friends and you will do it again in the days and years to come, standing by each other, sharing all that is sweet and bitter in life. Each tender act, each loving word will be the declaration of what was made here today.

*Therefore, it is my joyful responsibility, by the virtue of the power vested in me by the Marriage Act and the Province of Ontario to officially acknowledge your union as "Husband and Wife". You may now seal your marriage with a kiss.

Ladies and Gentlemen, it is my privilege to present to you for the very first time as husband and wife,

_____.

Opening Options for Ceremonies 1-5

1: _____ and _____ have come here today, to be joined in marriage under the authority given and provided for by the government of the Province of Ontario. They have invited us to share in this celebration, as they affirm their love before us and enter into the joys of marriage.

2: Marriage is a commitment to life. The best that two people can find and bring out in each other. It offers opportunities for sharing and growth that no other relationship can equal. It is a physical and an emotional joining that is promised for a lifetime. _____ and _____ have invited us to share in this celebration as they enter into marriage, to witness as they pledge their love and care for each other in marriage, as they make this promise to each other and join their hearts and souls in matrimony.

3: Welcome and thank-you for sharing in this special occasion as we witness the celebration of _____ and _____ in the unity of marriage. Love is one of the highest experiences we human beings can have and it can add depth and meaning to our lives. The day to day companionship, the pleasure in doing things together, or in doing separate things and exchanging those experiences, is a continuous and central part of what two people who love each other can share. Marriage was established so that two people might have life-long companionship, so that natural instincts and affections might be fulfilled in mutual love and so that the security of family, life, love and the home may be enjoyed.

4: _____ and _____ have come here today of their own free will to be joined in marriage. Marriage symbolizes the intimate sharing of two lives, yet this sharing must not diminish, but enhance the individuality of each partner. A happy marriage is one which is continually developing. While growing with and understanding each other and as you come into this marriage being united as spouses, and as you affirm your faith and love for one another, we ask that you always cherish each other as special and unique individuals and allow this marriage to be strengthened every day forward by your love and respect for each other.

Closing Options

1: _____ and _____ as we end this celebration, may you always find happiness in your union. May you live faithfully together, executing the vows that you have made to each other, and may you ever remain compassionate and encouraging through the years which will come to enrich you both with the joys and surprises that life provides. In so much as the two of you have agreed to live together in the covenant of matrimony, have promised your love for each other by these vows, the joining of your hands and the giving of these rings, it gives me great pleasure to declare and pronounce, by virtue of the powers vested in me by the Marriage Act of the Province of Ontario, that you are now husband and Wife / Married Partners.
You may now kiss to seal your vows.
